The Company is an American diversified multinational mass media and entertainment conglomerate headquartered at the Burbank, California.

Business Challenge of the client

Even though it was a 100% remote work, still they were unable to find a candidates in low rates.

Challenges faced in fulfilling this role

To Find a Candidates for Java Developer on very low rates in this Corona Pandemic, even though it was the 100 % Remote Role is quite challenging in itself. Somehow this candidate from Katowice Poland seems to have all the required skills and agreed to join this project on really such low rates and that's how we successfully closed this critical role with him.

What is unique and challenging about this closure

The unique and challenging about this role is finding the candidate in very low rates. In spite of 100% remote work, client was unable to find the candidate.
